Who is the NAILTA?

National Association of Independent Land Title Agents (NAILTA) is the national non-profit trade association representing the entire land title industry. Founded in 2008 and serving a membership of over 300 plus and representing thousands of professionals employed in the title insurance business. Its members create uniformity and promote the title insurance industry, the independent title agent and they further share a common philosophy about the value of independence, transparency and autonomy in real estate transactions.

Member Profile

NAILTA members are the decision makers in the land title industry. NAILTA members and associates are agents, underwriters, title examiners, abstractors, attorneys, settlement attorneys and other real estate professionals including surveyors, real estate agents, mortgage brokers, loan originators, lenders and notaries who assist in protecting the validity and sanctity of land title records in the United States and further assist in removing the conflicts of interest and restoring the "checks and balance" and safeguards to the real estate transaction.

The NAILTA Advantage

NAILTA promotes higher standards of professionalism, integrity and communication throughout the real estate and land title industry. The NAILTA mission includes actively promoting standards and regulations that increase the effectiveness of the industry through legislative initiatives and educational programs. Further, we believe that truly independent title agencies make title insurance costs more competitive, help lower title insurance claims and protect the ultimate consumer from costly real estate related litigation, displacement from their home and horrible inconveniences.
